

Cornerstone Society Funds

Hon. J. Terrence and Peggy Cody LRAP

This fund enables graduating law students to pay for their law school loans and be employed at civil legal aid providers, county department of child services offices, and county public defender's offices throughout Indiana, with preference given to those employed or living in Floyd County, Indiana.

Indiana Judges and Lawyers Assistance Program Treatment Fund

JLAP offers help to judges, attorneys, and law students who experience physical or mental disabilities that result from disease, chemical dependency, mental health problems, or age, which may impair these individuals' ability to practice in a competent and professional manner. Help varies with an individual's needs or a particular case, but ranges from information and referral to assistance with organization of an intervention. For more information on Indiana's JLAP, call (317) 833-0370 or 1 (866) 428-5527 (toll free). Visit JLAP's website at <http://www.in.gov/judiciary/ijlap/index.htm>.

Jack Lyle Memorial Fund

Jack Lyle (1920-2001) became Executive Director of the ISBA in 1969 in his third career after service in the military and as a newspaper executive. Recognized by his peers with the Bolton Award as the Best Bar Executive in the country, Jack was an early proponent of the Bar's involvement in the We the People program of civic education. This fund supports civic education in Indiana.

Joseph T. Helling Scholarship Fund

Established by his children, the Joseph T. Helling Scholarship Fund assists an attorney who has practiced fewer than five years by underwriting his or her attendance at the ISBA's Annual Meeting. Mr. Helling was a proponent of professional development and believed strongly in the collegial relationships formed at Bar events. The scholarship funds the applicant's registration fee, lodging, meals, and travel expenses, and it underwrites family participation in the Annual Meeting.

Phelps & Fara Family Law Fund

After many years of successful solo practices where they formerly represented opposing clients, Gale Phelps and Thomas Fara joined their practices. Both were active members in the family law section of the ISBA, demonstrating their commitment to the professionalism of family law by helping other attorneys and leading CLEs on various family law topics. The Phelps & Fara fund assists a law student studying the field of family law.

Randall T. Shepard Fund for Diversity in the Law Profession

Established in 2011 upon Chief Justice Shepard's retirement from the Indiana Supreme Court, the Shepard Fund for Diversity in the Law Profession has a mission to do as its name describes. The beneficiaries of this fund are: the Indiana Conference for Legal Education Opportunity (ICLEO) and the Indiana Supreme Court's Commission on Race and Gender Fairness. ICLEO was established to assist Indiana minority, low-income, or educationally disadvantaged college students to pursue a law degree.

Richard M. Givan Loan Repayment Assistance Fund

Established in 2009 in honor of the late Chief Justice Richard M. Givan and his commitment to public service, the fund assists attorneys working in legal aid and pro bono organizations or other nonprofits. Legal aid attorneys or those employed in nonprofits that are providing legal advice and make less than $50,000 annually may receive aid for repayment of student loans for law school or undergraduate education. The goal is to ensure that pressure from educational debt does not deter service to Hoosiers needing free legal assistance.

Shirley Ann Shideler Fund

Shirley Ann Shideler, who began as a legal secretary at Barnes & Thornburg LLP, became the first female partner of any major law firm in the state of Indiana, and the first female president of the Indiana Bar Foundation. At a time when women in law were a rarity, Shirley entered the Indiana University School of Law as a single parent in her 30s, graduated with distinction in 1964, and launched a legal career that would span four decades and be marked by extraordinary contributions to her clients, her community, her colleagues and her profession. This fund supports the areas of greatest or unmet need the Foundation has.
