Help Students Succeed

"This program has informed me not only of what is going on in my local community but also in a greater capacity of the nation and the world. I want to attend West Point. Learning about being civically engaged and what it truly means to be a citizen has allowed me to understand the great responsibility and commitment of being in the U.S. military."

-- Seth, 2017 civic education competitor

You can help Seth and other students understand their responsibilities as citizens. Donate before September 30 to ensure Seth and his peers are well-equipped to succeed. A donation of at least $1,000 will help Seth and other students in Indiana learn about the U.S. Constitution and trial processes.
